I am very unhappy with the proposed settlement between the United States and Microsoft Corporation. The original plan really showed that Microsoft had done something wrong, and would actually punish the corporation. This one is a slap on the wrist, and seems to say that as long as you've got enough money you don't have to worry about justice. Do the right thing, and don't give in to pressure to settle just because it's a huge corporation.

Thank you,
